The Card Game

Tips to print the taste test PDF

We aren't in the habit of telling our players how to "suck eggs", but we will give you some tips so that you can get the best results when making your own version of the game.

We recommend that you take this file to your local print shop and ask for their version of the below. For this set of around 120 cards you can expect to pay anywhere from $30 to $50, which is just one of the reasons you should buy it from us, you get more for less. Alternatively, if you have your own printer its cheapest to just use that.

Colour print, A4 220-280gsm
(80-100lbs) gloss

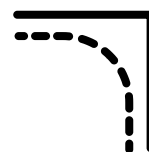

2.

Faces on one side and backs on the other. We set this up so you can just select: "Print both sides"

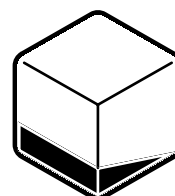

3.

Cut the cards out and round corners with a 3mm radius.

4.

Get a box to store them that you can also use for the vote.

How to play

Dark 2 Light is a framework that is meant to be modified by you to accommodate the types of people you might be playing with. The simplest way to do this is to remove any potentially problematic questions or write your own. Be as creative as you like, but you can never please everyone so don't change too much otherwise people might think you have a god complex. Every card is unique except for voting cards, no duplicate cards is best for game play. This free PDF will never contain adult material, these questions can only be purchased in the official version.

The simple life

Question - Black

Votes - Pattern

Set up

Give each player both a YES and NO card, place the questions and remaining vote cards in the centre. Agree on maximum number of points, rounds or play time, if you can't agree, vote. We recommend 7 points.

Players that have not played before start, if everyone has played before the one that played the longest time ago starts. If multiple players have the same answer, decide who starts with a game of rock, paper, scissors.

If there are an EVEN number of players, decide if the person reading the question will vote or not. If so they can either guess YES, NO or SPLIT, this makes things harder but more fun.

Start

Draw a black question card and read the question out loud. If the question is ambiguous or you don't understand it now is the time to discuss.

Questions should be interpreted such that 'I' is the person reading the question and 'you' is the person answering the question.

Vote

Everyone votes with a Yes OR No card by placing them face down in the centre of the table or in the ballot box. Your first instinct should be how you vote. Discard your remaining voting card in amongst other voting cards on the table.

Points

In this order the question reader; guesses what the majority of the group voted, counts backs of voting cards to confirm everyone voted, shuffles, then counts the vote on the table. If a player can guess the exact result of the vote they get an another turn, but if they fail they lose a point.

If guessed correctly, keep the question card as a point. Everyone now collects more Yes AND No voting cards. The next player then draws the next question card to begin their turn.

At the end of the game players cards are totalled as per their value.

The hard life

Drops - Blue

Boost - Yellow

In more advanced play there are Boosts and Drops (rewards and punishments). A player can elect to guess the exact result to gain a Boost card, however, if they lose they must draw a Drop card.

A round is defined everyone having a turn.

Drops

Drops are given to players for breaking the rules of the game. These violations include:

- Drawing a question when it is not their turn.
- Revealing anyone's vote before it is predicted by the question reader.
- Not voting during a turn without being instructed to miss a vote from another card.

Each drop has an action and a consequence with a possible qualifier. Some drops are to be kept secret until they are complete, if you get one place face it down on the table with any points you have. When the task is complete the player must announce it to the group and discard the drop card to avoid losing a point.

Boosts

2 Boosts are given out at the beginning of the game and are to be kept secret until the player wants to play one. Boosts can be played at any time after the first round. At the end of the game 2 boosts count 1 point.

Boosts give you the ability to do something that may give you an advantage over other players. Some are to be discarded once played and do not mean you get an extra point. Some mean that you will have a secret task, as soon as the task is complete the player must place the card face up on the table and log it as a point.

Misc.

Each turn is time locked to 1 minute anyone that has not voted within this time must draw a drop card. Use your phone as a timer.

You might be required to reveal your remaining vote card so only discard it after the count.

Players cannot have negative points but can lose boosts resting their score to zero.
